

DAWN FARM RESIDENTIAL SERVICES

Residential services provide an effective solution to drug and alcohol addiction. Since 1973, Dawn Farm has offered comprehensive help in a unique long-term treatment setting.

We offer residential stays of 2-6 months, with a typical stay of 3 to 3.5 months for individuals who suffer from addiction to drugs and alcohol. Treatment is built on solid recovery principles and includes significant involvement in the local recovering community.

Two Residential Settings – Our 64 acre working farm offers a therapeutic experience combined with all that rural living has to offer—including pigs and chickens and an organic garden. Dawn Farm Downtown provides similar stays for individuals who may not want a rural experience, offering the convenience and opportunities of downtown Ann Arbor—one of the country's finest communities.

Comprehensive Services – Both residential sites offer daily group therapy, individual therapy and case management by skilled professionals, along with education and recreation. Each facility provides medical care, art and work therapy, vocational referrals and job training, high school/GED and specialized Family Services to assist with improving basic family relationships. Dawn Farm is committed to meeting residents' unique needs and works to provide specialized treatment for each individual.

Strong Aftercare – Living in community with recovering individuals offers residents a chance to build healthy relationships and practice cooperation. Before completing treatment, our residents secure employment and housing and join our six-month aftercare program.

A vital part of the Dawn Farm residential program is the Chapin Street Project. All residential clients have the opportunity to enroll in our supportive transitional housing program—from six months to two years of supportive, recovery-based housing.

Dawn Farm offers psychiatric care to all residential clients, special services and a wide array of additional programs including outpatient, adolescent care, outreaches to pregnant addicts, etc. We operate the Spera Recovery Program—an 18 bed detoxification program located in the heart of Ann Arbor.

Importance of Community – One of our primary goals is to assist residents in finding a place within the recovering community. We work hard to help them develop a foundation in local 12 step groups and to build meaningful relationships with others in recovery.

Cost Effective – Dawn Farm residential programs are among the least expensive in the United States. $110.00 basic costs per bed day cover room and board, intensive therapy, recreational activities and a comprehensive therapeutic milieu.

As a result, Dawn Farm graduates consistently stay drug and alcohol free. We are licensed by the State of Michigan and accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF).
